+ Doses will pull from inventory based on the lot number and vaccine eligibility code in the transfer file. Inventory deduction occurs when there is an exact match between the lot number in the transfer file, and the lot number that is already entered into the appropriate MCIR inventory. If the lot number is not found in the default inventory, MCIR will try to match it and automatically deduct from the next available inventory. Deductions from the non-default inventory will cause "borrowing" inventory transactions to occur.
